GPC Working Group on the Long Term Strategy of Joint Programming

Emmanuel Pasco-Viel

GPC Vice-Chair

Ministry of Higher Education and Research, France

Long Term Recommendation from the expert evaluation report

Planning process for the next Framework

Programme is an important opportunity for the Member States and the EC to consider their positions on joint programming.

- Each of the JPIs should be invited to consider their longer term strategy in terms of socio-economic impact objectives/deliverables and what support instruments they would need from the next Framework Programme.
- Any such proposals should, of course, include firm commitments from national stakeholders and, where appropriate, other societal challenge stakeholders such as industry.

WP1: Framework for the Long Term Strategy of JPIs

To prepare a framework which will serve as a template / framework is expected to provide guidelines for the content of the Long Term Strategy

e.g., state of play, achievements according to original objectives, intervention logic for future activities, planned activities and instruments, success criteria and objectives, financial and other commitments etc.)

The group will take into account and use previous work, in particular the report from Implementation Group 3 (Monitoring JPIs), the relevant work from ERA Learn 2020 and the Hernani Report.

WP2: Proposal for JP in the WP 2018-2020

- As the Hernani report raised the issue of divergent support to JPIs from the FP, the group shall prepare an overall report for the consideration of GPC concerning the planned activities of the JPI's during the period 2018-2020, including support from H2020, as required.
- The WG should seek close interaction with the individual JPI's here. Each of the JPIs will be encouraged to present their strategy for the years 2018 – 2020, the commitments from the participating states to contribute at national and transnational level and the expectations towards the EC services to support selected activities within the framework of the WP 2018-20.

WP3: Proposal for JP in the next FP

- The WP3 will prepare a synthesis report including:
 - (a) the long-term strategies of the individual JPIs in relation to the next FP, based on the framework developed in the WP1, and
 - (b) recommendations with respect to the role of Joint Programming for addressing the social challenges under the next FP.
- The above will serve the GPC in order to issue recommendations to the ERAC and to the Council regarding the future of JP in the next FP
